

David J. Hindman

David J. Hindman is a shareholder who practices in the firm's business, bankruptcy and commercial litigation sections.

David received his MBA, with honors, and his JD, Cum Laude, from the University of Arizona. While in law school David wrote for the Arizona Journal of International and Comparative Law and clerked for Mesch Clark Rothschild. He was an Extern for U.S. District Court Magistrate Judge Charles Pyle. Through The Eller College of Management and the Tucson Urban League, David provided consulting services to new businesses, assisting them to develop and execute business plans.

A native of Boise, Idaho, David attended Brigham Young University and received his BS in Mechanical Engineering with a minor in Japanese. He interrupted his college career to serve a two year mission in Japan. Throughout his university and graduate years, David was engaged in various internships with Hewlett Packard, The Safari Club International and DEI Professional Services, encompassing projects which drew upon his engineering and business skills.

Committed to community service, David was a Board Member of the Southern Arizona Chapter of the J. Reuben Clark Law Society and served on the Advisory Council of Tucson's Salvation Army Adult Rehabilitation Center. He has volunteered with Boy Scout Troops, and with his church conducting Sunday meetings, leading youth group activities and serving on the finance committee. He has officiated reaffirmation hearings for the Volunteer Lawyers Program of the State Bar of Arizona and volunteered for Wills for Heroes preparing wills and other estate documents for local law enforcement officers and firefighters. David is currently on the Marana Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.
